Stanley Brock Named Vice Pres. Of Canada Packers

FORMER NEWMARKET BOY HAS NOT-ABLE CAREER

Newmarket and district residents will be pleased to learn of the election recently of Stanley G. Brock, as a vice president of Canada Packers Limited. He is also secretary-treasurer of the company.

Born at Holland Landing May 4, 1889, the son of Isaac and Elizabeth (Wooding) Brock, he started to school in the Landing at the age of five. Two years later the family moved to Newmarket, taking up residence on Botsford street, in the house now owned by Charles VanZant. He attended the local public and high schools until March 1903, afterwards going to Shaw's Business College, Toronto.

In May of 1903, he commenced as office junior with the Harris Abattoir Co. Ltd. After seven years' office experience, he spent two years as salesman, first in the city of Toronto, and afterwards in the Maritime Provinces. He was appointed assistant secretary of this company in April 1912, and elected a director in March 1918. In August 1927 the Harris Abattoir Co. was merged with three other packing companies, to form Canada Packers Ltd. At that time he was appointed director and secretary of the new concern, which important position he has filled capably since.

Mr. Brock was married in 1911

STANLEY G. BROCK

to Elizabeth Grace Ackman of Moncton, N.B. In September 1915 he received a commission and joined the Royal Grenadiers of Toronto, retiring to the reserve of officers in 1935. Mr. Brock's first job was as carrier boy for the Newmarket Era, then owned by the late L. G. Jackson, and on Saturdays and during summer holidays printer's devil under the late George Muir.

Mr. Brock took a keen interest in the Old Boys' Reunion last year, and looked after many of the details in connection with the Toronto end of organization.

OFFICER COMMANDING INSPECTS QUEEN'S YORK RANGERS

Headed by Newmarket Citizens' Band, the Queen's York Rangers paraded the town Tuesday evening and were officially inspected by their O.C. Col. John Hyde Bennett, V.D.

The Colonel took the salute at the post office, some two hundred men being in the squad. He was accompanied by a staff of officers from headquarters, Toronto.

Colonel Bennett was reviewing the company for the first time since his appointment as successor to Col. R. O. Merrick.

Capt. D. O. Mungovan commands the company, with Lieut. J. B. Canham, and Lieut. T. C. Line, of Richmond Hill, as seconds. Each Tuesday and Thursday nights the platoons at Aurora and Newmarket gather for drill.

"The boys have swung into training with a great esprit d'corps, and have learned quickly and thoroughly, too," Lieut. Line said. "We are proud of them, and we have an especially fine type of fellows in the company."

MINISTER OF DEFENCE ASKS CO-OPERATION OF LOCAL BANDS

Mayor Boyd this morning received a telegram from Colonel Ralston, minister of defence, asking for the services of Newmarket's bands for special occasions in connection with the new military camp.

LIEUT.-COL. R. B. HARKNESS AND MAJOR B. H. GEARY TO BE IN CHARGE

Lieut.-Col. R. B. Harkness, D.S.O., French Croix de Guerre with palm, three times mentioned in dispatches, is no half-pint soldier either in stature or experience. Army life was his lot during the last war and army life is again his choice. As commanding officer of the Newmarket military training camp he will direct the elementary training program for thousands of young men in Canada's national compulsory military scheme.

Second in command is Major B. Handley Geary, V.C.

Col. Harkness, born north of Nanaimo, enlisted with the Canadian engineers and went overseas in 1914 as a sapper. In 1915 he was commissioned to the Welsh Regiment and during the last three months of fighting and until demobilization in 1919, commanded the battalion. After demobilization in England, Col. Harkness returned to Canada and for a short time served with the department of soldier re-establishment before his appointment to the provincial natural gas commission in March, 1921.

Granted leave of absence from the commission, Col. Harkness is now busy getting his camp personnel lined up. He says they are "a fine lot of men" selected and hand-picked especially to instruct and lead the thousands of young men soon to be placed under their command.

One of 3 Hill 60 V.C.'s

Born in London, Eng., Major Geary went overseas with the East Surrey regiment in 1914 and was one of three members of his unit to win the Victoria Cross at Hill 60, April 20, 1915. The other two were Brig. George Roupell and Pte. Edward Dwyer. Major Geary does not know where Dwyer is, but he said the last he had heard of Brig. Roupell was when he was reported missing while commanding a brigade during the evacuation of Dunkirk. Their last reunion was in 1919 when all attended a dinner tendered to V.C. winners by the Prince of Wales.

In "The Victoria Cross" compiled by Lieut.-Col. Rupert Stewart, M.V.O., the latter said that Major Geary, then second lieutenant, with his platoon, some men of the Bedfordshire regiment and a few reinforcements who came up in the evening and night held the left crater—exposed to heavy artillery fire and bomb attacks. At one time he used rifle and at another hand grenades and exposed himself with entire disregard to danger to see by light flares where the enemy were coming on.

Three Months In Italy Reminiscing, Major Geary modestly skipped the details. He said he was "invalided home" and after doing ground work in the Royal Flying Corps went back to the front in 1916. After a period of instruction work he rejoined his own unit in 1917 and served with it three months in Italy before returning to France.

In 1918 he stopped three more bullets, "one in the arm, one in the leg and one in the middle." (Continued on Page 5, Col. 4)

Mayor Urges More Water For Town

In Iceland

PTE. WILFRED PIPHER son of Mr. and Mrs. Lem Pipher, who is stationed in Iceland with other Newmarket boys, members of the Royal Regiment.

HAS END OF FINGER OFF

Mr. Leslie Smith of Gorham Street had the end of a finger on his left hand taken off in a press at the Office Specialty Friday.

WILL NOT TAKE BLAME FOR SHORTAGE

After the water and light committee had spent over $2,000 sinking test holes here and there around the town, I became dissatisfied, and advised trying one and one quarter miles north of town, where the surrounding farmers have large flowing wells. I actually went with the drillers to the situation known as the green lane, and pointed out to them where I wanted a test-hole sunk. The result was, we obtained a very fine flow.

"The International Water Supply Co. gave us prices on two types of well. One for 200 gal. per minute guaranteed. The other for 300 gal. per minute. This is more than our present wells are producing altogether.

"I advised the council to go ahead and develop a well. I was anxious that we proceed without delay, for three reasons. First, eventually we are sure to need the water. Second, we could borrow the money at a very low rate of interest at that time. Third, the prices of material and labour were reasonably low.

"The estimated cost of the well in the early summer was in the neighborhood of $10,000.

"I mentioned that: 'Now that we had the water, we should be smart enough to go ahead and develop it while the going was good.'

"The committee, however, thought different, and for one reason and another, delayed doing so. Now the cost of construction has gone up. Labor is higher, materials are getting dearer and harder to get. Interest rates will be higher on the money we will have to borrow.

Five Miles Of Water Line In New Camp

HOSPITAL TO BE HEATED BY STEAM; BILLETS BY STOVES

Citizens have been amazed at the magnitude of the buildings at the Newmarket military camp, and yet we doubt if any of us realize the work that has been really going on up there these past few weeks.

In conversation with Sapper Edward Horton, who is in charge of all the plumbing, we were given some facts and figures that to a layman are almost unbelievable. For example, there are five miles of water pipe, and a mile and a half of drain line throughout the grounds. Over five thousand pipe fittings have already been used. Sapper Horton has twelve plumbers and twenty laborers on this work.

The men's billets, he informed the Express-Herald, will be heated by six radiant heaters placed down the centre of the building, while in each hut that houses some 125 men, will be a two hundred gallon boiler, with jacket heater attached to provide hot water. There are seven toilets and six showers in a hut, besides washing facilities. The twenty-six bed hospital will be steam heated. Large refrigerators are being built in the kitchens.

The officers' quarters, located on the north side of Srigley street, in Connaught Gardens, are rapidly nearing completion. Two officers share a room which will be fitted up with all the comforts of home—bathroom and showers—with abundance of hot water.

Sapper Horton, who is a tall, good-looking young chap, takes a keen interest in his work and knows what it is all about. That his men have accomplished so much in such a short period speaks volumes for his ability in his chosen profession.

Fourteen Day In Jail For Drunk Driving

PERFORMS TRICK ON HANDS AND KNEES WHEN ASKED TO WALK STRAIGHT LINE

Albert VanStone of Cannington, charged with driving while intoxicated, was sentenced to jail for fourteen days at Police Court on Tuesday. His car was ordered impounded for three months, and his license to drive suspended for three months.

Constable James Sloss testified that he, accompanied by George Byers, was driving along the town line between Brock and Georgina Townships, on September 2nd, about 11.15 p.m. On approaching the corner, they noticed a car coming towards them on the wrong side of the road, very slowly. Byers, who was driving the officer's car, stopped about four feet from the edge of the pavement.

"The accused came over on the wrong side of the road and hit my car square on," continued Constable Sloss. "There is a wide turn at this point and plenty of room to pass. I got out to investigate and asked the driver what the trouble was. He said, 'I'm alright, brother,' and started his car again. I asked him to get out. He didn't for some time, and then I helped him out. He staggered and his speech was thick. I noticed liquor on his breath. I drove his car into Sutton and phoned Constable Hill, who took charge from then on. VanStone was very abusive on the way to Sutton. He was certainly under the influence of liquor, and in no condition to drive a car."

Constable Hill swore that accused smelt strongly of liquor, his speech was thick and he was unsteady on his feet. "I took him to Dr. Beattie's office," stated the officer. "The doctor asked him to stand with his feet together, and close his eyes. As he tried to do this, he weaved. Then the doctor asked him to walk a straight line, and he got down on his hands and knees and started to do a trick winding his feet around. I would say he was under the influence of liquor and in no condition to drive a car."

George Byers gave the same evidence as Constable Sloss, and swore that VanStone was very much under the influence of liquor.

"The accused VanStone talked thickly, his breath smelt strongly of liquor and swayed slightly when asked to stand still," testified Dr. Beattie. "He was not capable of driving a car safely."

"I had been working up until Saturday evening and wasn't feeling very good on Labour Day," stated accused. "I was in Cannington until four o'clock in the afternoon, when a party asked me to drive him to Pefferlaw. We arrived there about 4.30. We visited the poolroom, barber shop and beverage room."

Talented Young Artist Composes Songs

DAUGHTER OF FORMER WELL KNOWN NEWMARKET GIRL

The following article from The Ontario Intelligencer, Belleville, of Saturday, will be of interest to many Newmarketers who remember Mrs. J. C. Smith as Miss Ethel Sharpe. Mrs. Smith's 12-year-old daughter, it seems, takes after her mother who is a talented pianist, and has written words for two songs, the first to the tune of "Reuben and Rachel," the other to "There'll Always be an England."

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Conservative Club was held in their club rooms Friday night, with Mrs. Harry Rollins, President, in the chair. The meeting was opened by a solo from George Shepherd. "There Will Always be an England." After the usual business was taken care of Mrs. Arnott advised that Miss Earshman would speak at the October meeting on Health, from the Provincial and Federal Department of Health.

The program for the evening was very capably carried out by two talented young singers, Miss Ethel Smith, whose mother is pianist for the Conservative Club and Mr. George Shepherd. One of their numbers was a song which they composed themselves as follows:

Hitler, Goering, Mussolini, Who do you think you are? With the British Navy here, You cannot get very far.

Hitler, Goering, Mussolini, British Tommies stand so strong Don't think you can win the war Cause the British do no wrong. (Continued on Page 4, Col. 2)

Delay Construction Of New Well Council Decides

300 GALLONS PER MINUTE WOULD COST TOWN $58,000

Despite strong urging from Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd, council Tuesday night, in a special session, decided to delay the development of the town's new water supply at Greenlane.

It was laid over until it becomes known whether the amount of water used by Pickering College and the new army camp will overtax the town's capacity.

"I want this well developed at once so that we will not be caught short-handed," declared the mayor, as he pleaded to have the job advanced.

Councillor Arthur Evans stated that the present maximum daily supply from the town wells is 290,000 gallons with about 220,000 gallons being used by the town. It is expected, he said, that the camp will use about 40,000, leaving about 30,000 as a safety margin.

As an alternative Mayor Boyd urged that the well be developed and the cost of the pumping equipment laid over till next year.

An engineer of the well drilling company stated that "your present pump capacity and demand are much too close for comfort. We could develop a well now to make sure there is a good enough flow and then construct in spring."

He said his company was willing to guarantee a flow of 200 gallons per minute at a cost of $48,000 and a 300 gallons per minute at $50,000.

"Is it possible to leave this over till election time when we can ask the taxpayers whether we should spend so much money," questioned Councillor W. Dixon.

"Are we side-stepping this question because we are afraid to spend $40,000 or $50,000 or do we want to wait till the people decide," Councillor Evans countered. "I think the ratepayers will back council in whatever it decides."

EDITORIAL

A FAIR WAGE

In our last issue we announced that up to last Saturday, a sum of $40,000 had been paid out in wages at the Newmarket Military Camp. It is a safe estimate that of this amount, some $20,000 stayed in town in wages, board and in purchases on the Main Street. This payroll has meant a big thing to our town. We do not agree with the attitude taken by a few that the rate of fifty cents per hour paid for labour on this job, or the more advanced pay to experienced men, is outlandish, and that the tax-payer of the county has any just kick. If any of you think that these men do not earn their money, we can assure you they do—ten hours' digging hard clay is not our idea of a soft job for five dollars. To the contrary, we think that the Government should be commended for paying a decent wage, and that the corporation, if they are in the market this fall for men to dig pipe line for a new well, should be made pay at least forty to forty-five cents per hour. The days of twenty-five or thirty-five cents per hour labour should be a thing of the past. Surely an honest worker is worthy of a pay envelope big enough to buy and pay for the ordinary necessities of life. Possibly this is one of the changes that will come after this war.

Under Sergeant Gerrard and his formen's watchful eyes, the Military Camp has progressed in leaps and bounds. Town men and returned soldiers make up the big percentage of the workers, and so faithfully and diligently have these men been about their task, that the work will be completed a full week ahead of schedule. To each and every chap at the camp, we want you to know, while we envy your pay check, we don't begrudge you a cent of it—many of you fellows worked for your government at $1.10 a day for years when you served in France and Flanders. You other chaps have received a break, and will be able to catch up on last winter's coal bill and perhaps put a ton or two in the bin.

"SO LONG AS GREAT BRITAIN CONTINUES UNCONQUERED"

A recent issue of The Christian Science Monitor carried an editorial that has many suggestive lessons. Canadian and other British newspapers have hailed the editorial as another indication of the growing friendship between this country and the South. It is that, of course, but it is well to remember that The Christian Science Monitor has always been friendly to Canada and to Britain because it is friendly to the ideals on which the Empire is based and unfriendly to intolerance, slavery and evil. The editorial has a special value in that it gives to a wide audience a concise review of what the war means to the world. In part the editorial says:—

"So long as Great Britain remains unconquered, hope remains for a real peace which will release Europe—including the German people—from the prison of totalitarian terror.

"While Britain stands, France, Belgium the Netherlands, Norway, Denmark, Poland, Czechoslovakia are only temporary slaves.

"While Britain stands there is hope for a genuine 'new order' under which some sort of self-governing federation will preserve the liberties of small nations.

"While Britain stands, there is a chance to stop the trend toward utter lawlessness and anarchy which today spreads the threat of robbery by violence round the world.

"While Britain stands, there is hope that the ideals of Christianity, liberty, justice, enlightenment and tolerance will have free opportunity to develop.

"While Britain stands, paganism, despotism, injustice, imposed ignorance and calculated intolerance will not have official sanction by the dominant power of Europe.

"While Britain stands, Japan, Russia and Italy recognize some restraints.

"While Britain stands, the Monroe doctrine can hardly be seriously menaced.

"While Britain stands, the totalitarian trade cannot coerce the markets of the globe.

"While Britain stands, the United States is not a democratic island in a world dominated by dictatorships.

"While Britain stands, the oceans are barriers to, rather than highways for, aggressors.

"While Britain stands, 'fifth columnists' in America remain merely slinking plotters, lacking great military or economic support.

"While Britain stands, America can spend some time on building a two-ocean navy.

"While Britain stands, there is time to debate preparedness in the United States.

"While Britain stands, those who fail to read the lessons of history can say she is fighting only her own battle.

"While Britain stands, America can stay out of war."

NOTE AND COMMENT

A number of the citizens are complaining that the town's alarm clock—the six o'clock whistle—does not blow loud or long enough. To some of us this does not mean a thing, while to others it has been the arising signal for a goodly number of years.

Our sincere admiration to those of our fellow Britishers who are these days undergoing death and suffering in historic old London. These people, by their undaunted spirit, are telling Mr. Hitler and the Reich in more than words or song, that despite all his horrors "There'll Always Be An England."

It has been discovered that Mr. R. B. Bennett is working with characteristic energy and effectiveness in the Aircraft Production department of the British ministry under Lord Beaverbrook, another Canadian. He is also continuing his services in connection with the work of the Canadian Red Cross in England. His Canadian friends and admirers will be glad to learn that Mr. Bennett appears to be enjoying good health, and to be standing up well under the strain.

In the recent years of pretended peace, there was a tendency to looseness in talk, with so-called intellectual meandering that were near or over the line of disloyalty. None of this should be tolerated to-day. It should be remembered that there are thousands upon thousands of gallant Canadians overseas, facing the danger of death, and worse, for Canada, Britain and for freedom. These brave men have loved ones here, and not a word should be tolerated that will vex or irritate or alarm these relatives. Loose talk should be banished for the full duration of the war—and after.

In a certain town in Canada (name omitted intentionally) a campaign was held a short time ago to raise funds for the local Public Library. The editor of the local newspaper, (as is usually the case with editors) wanted to do his part, so he wrote a splendid editorial, praising the great benefits enjoyed through the Library and ended his writings by requesting the readers to send in a brief article on the subject "Books that have helped me." We can understand the Editor chuckling when he opened one reply and read: "My mother's cook book and my father's cheque book."

Here's how the exchange works out to the advantage of residents of the United States temporarily abiding in Canada. A few days ago a visitor purchased a chicken in one of our best known meat stores and tendered a ten-dollar U. S. bill in payment. He received not only the chicken but ten dollars and fifteen cents in change. In conversation with a gentleman from Messina, N.Y., he told us that recently he motored from his home into Canada and travelled through the Bay of Quinte and Picton district, on to Toronto and North Bay and back by the lake district about Peterboro. The trip occupied over a week and was made at an expenditure of $12 for himself and wife, reckoned, of course, in United States dollars. In this case, however, he had purchased Canadian currency at home at a discount of 20 per cent.—The Collingwood Enterprise-Bulletin.

Newmarket Military Camp

By Golden Glow

I received a letter from an old Newmarket friend who has been reading in this paper about our military camp up on Srigley St. hill, wanting me to write an article on it. I am afraid she "drew a blank," for I have only seen it myself the once, except across from Huron Street, as we drove along in the car, and that was last Thursday evening. We drove out Gorman Street and saw it from there—and believe me, it does look imposing from Gorman Street, the street south of the Fair Grounds. Then we drove out to see the new road that is to relieve Yonge Street (No. 11), cutting off Bogartown, and take the traffic up to Lake Simcoe that way. Then we drove back along the new road and in Srigley St. and I may as well say what I said then—I got the surprise of my life. Why, it's a little town in itself! Building after building, from the house on Stickwood's farm for quite a distance east, then the officers' quarters, I understand, on the opposite side of the street in Connaught Gardens, and a foundation laid for what I learned after was to be the camp hospital. Of course, I did not get out of the car, so all I can write about it is just that passing glimpse I had. There were "no parking" signs all along, and we kept on going. Then we went down Srigley Street hill—that steep hill where years ago we used to see the wonderful sunsets! The road is much improved and so the hill didn't seem so steep. You could see the new buildings clustering all along the curve of the hill sloping down to the Fair Grounds, so we decided to have a look from the Fair Grounds itself. So along Prospect we went and turned down Timothy Street by the Alexander Muir School yard to go to the "camp grounds." There are signs all along, "Military Camp," with the arrow pointing the direction, all over, to guide traffic. As we passed the school grounds we spoke of the workmen employed in digging for the new sewer, coming on to caskets buried there since the time the site was a church yard. (Not like the caskets, I believe Jim Hunter said this morning in his broadcast, that the Germans were bringing home from Norway supposedly containing their dead soldiers, but one coffin crashed to the dock and out spilled hams, cheese vegetables and other foodstuffs!) Then we passed the field beside the creek and saw Mr. John Stephenson's garden of gladiolus. There are over a thousand of every shade and color! Beyond that was Mr. and Mrs. Broughton's lovely garden, full of every kind of flower, just opposite the gates to the Fair Grounds. I suppose now it will lose its identity and be called "The Camp."

If we thought we had a good view before it was nothing compared to what we saw as we drove round the race track. There is a huge building going up inside the oval and extensive cement work seemed to have been in progress, in fact there still were workmen there finishing up some work. A road has been built from near the northeast upper end of the race track up to the buildings on Srigley Street hill. I wish I had counted the buildings, but you see I had no notion last Thursday evening that I would be writing this brief little article. It is brief, and nothing in it, I'm afraid—but I thought I'd tell the little I knew. It certainly gives the appearance of being an ideal camp, placed as it is on the rounding hill with the fine level plateau of Connaught Gardens beyond—with roads leading to the east end of Queen St. The sewers were laid along the north side of the race track, and the water-pipes from up on the hill. Everything seems very compact and complete. I didn't see the flag-staff—I hope they have a fine big one!

I hear there is to be a library and recreation room for the soldiers, so we'd better start saving magazines and hunt up games and playing cards ready for when they are needed.

This is the best I can do at present—I'll write more later on, if I learn anything. I think our out-of-town readers would be interested in it. Write again, readers, if you have any subject such as this you'd like me to include in the Golden Glow column.

DUCK SEASON DATES ANNOUNCED

From the Department at Ottawa comes the announcement of the open season for ducks and geese, which is sure proof that fall is just around the corner. The season is as usual this year and runs from September 15th to November 15th, for the Northern part of the province bounded on the south by the southerly boundary lines of Bruce and Grey counties. South of this boundary line the season opens two weeks later, October 1st and closes on November 30. The bag is unchanged at 12 ducks and 5 geese per day with a season's limit of 150 and 50 respectively.

CAUSE OF HYDRO
INTERRUPTION EXPLAINED
The reason for the various interruptions on the circuit feeding Richmond Hill, Aurora and Newmarket and Sutton stations is that the H.E.P.C. are changing over this feeder from Davenport substation to the new substation in West York, which will feed all this section north of Toronto, and be known as Fairbanks substation. There is now a 26,000 volt line feeding to Willowdale in place of the 13,000 volt line from Davenport substation to Willowdale.

CLERGYMAN AND WIFE ARE WED FORTY YEARS

Former United Church Minister Here.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Addison were at home to their many friends Thursday last on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Addison received the guests in black lace, and assisting in receiving was Mrs. Leslie Thom, Barrie, who had been bridesmaid at the Addison wedding. Gladoli from Dr. Addison's garden made a lovely setting for the party in the various rooms, and pink roses were used on the table. Mrs. James Hales and Mrs. A. E. Long, sisters of Mrs. Addison, presided at the tea table, and assisting were Mrs. F. E. Lewis, Mrs. William Addison, Mrs. George Addison and Miss Julia Addison. In the evening Dr. Margaret Addison, sister of the host, poured tea with Mrs. George J. Blackwell. The wedding 40 years ago was performed by Dr. Addison's father, Rev. Peter Addison, in Toronto.

WELL KNOWN AURORA RESIDENT, MARK BROWNING, DEAD

Mark Browning, charter member of the Sons of England Lodge, Aurora, died at his home Saturday in his 75th year.

Mr. Browning's death leaves but one of the charter members of the lodge, which celebrated its 50th anniversary in January last year.

Mr. Browning was born in Hampshire, England, and came to Canada when a boy of eight years of age, settling in Aurora, where he has lived ever since. Crossing with his family to Canada in a steamboat, took 17 weeks. A mason by trade, he was actively engaged in that work until seven years ago.

He was a lifelong member of the Church of England and a Conservative in politics.

His widow, Maria Southwood; three sons, Howard and Charles of Brampton, and Clarence, of Aurora, and one daughter, Mrs. A. Newton, Aurora, survive, as well as four sisters, Mrs. A. Cockerill, Mrs. R. Tustian, Mrs. D. Cameron, all of Aurora, and Mrs. C. Somerville, Newmarket.

FOURTEEN DAYS IN JAIL FOR DRUNK DRIVING

I was in the beverage room from 4.30 until 9.30 or 9.40 S.T. I had a pint of beer and three glasses of beer. I left shortly after for home, and met the officer on the road. I did not hit this man at all, and our bumpers never locked. It isn't a gravel road, it's an asphalt road. I had a bit of trouble with my lights, and might have been over the road a little. This man appeared in front of me and I stopped. I absolutely did not bump him the second time, nor the first. My car is heavy and weighs 4,250 pounds, and there was no damage whatever done. I would have shoved him some place. I hadn't a nickel in my pocket that day, and never spent a nickel in the hotel. The chap with me had $12.50.

"I was with VanStone in the beverage room, and was there when he got up and went out," swore Ed. Conner. "He could walk alright then."

Lloyd St. John, head waiter in the beverage room, testified that accused appeared to be alright when he left about 9.30.

"This man is a labouring man, and until a few months ago there was not much work," stated defence counsel, Mason Horner. "His wife is the one who will suffer."

Harry Kitchen of Schomberg, charged by Constable Fleury with dangerous driving and careless driving, and charged by Constable Farquhar with illegal possession, was remanded for one week. Bail was set at $500.

A charge of dangerous driving against Alvin Pollock of Keswick was dismissed.

Silas Cryderman, who works at Pine Beach, was the first witness called. His evidence conflicted with the other witness. He stated that he was walking on the highway near Elmhurst Beach, on the left hand side of the road, and Sherman Sedore was walking along with him. He thought Sedore was three or four feet out on the pavement when he was struck. He didn't remember if there were any other cars coming or not. The accused wasn't travelling very fast.

"I was walking on the Highway about 11 o'clock, D.S.T.," testified Sherman Sedore. "It was a partly cloudy night, but I could see where I was walking. There was a fair amount of traffic. I had passed Cryderman and was about five to ten feet in front of him, within three inches of the west edge of the pavement. At the time I turned to the west to speak to Cryderman. I had not been walking with him. Before turning, I had noticed this car coming. My head was turned to the west. I was knocked unconscious and came to for about three minutes at Dr. Pim's office, and was then brought to York County Hospital, where I remained for three days. There a V-cut on the top of my head, which required nine stitches, a slight bruise on my right leg and a slight scratch just below my left knee on the inside. I had a concussion of the brain."

"I found this car had been moved to the front of the store," testified Constable Morton. "There were no marks on the pavement to indicate where the accident occurred. The injured man had been taken to the doctor when I arrived. There were no blood marks or anything. The information I received was that Sedore had been knocked in the ditch. The accused was normal. He said he was proceeding south at a slow rate of speed, and was blinded by the lights."

"I was proceeding on the highway going south about twenty-five miles an hour," testified accused. "As I came past the store a car was waiting to get out on the highway and the lights were focussed right across the highway. When I got past these lights, there stood Mr. Sedore. He was about five feet out on the highway when I saw him, with either his back or side to me. Cars were approaching from the south and I was meeting one right there. I couldn't turn out any farther or I would have struck Sedore."

"I was standing between Mr. Williamson's car and where Sedore was hit," testified Hugh Ross, "when Pollock's car passed the store, it was not travelling more than twenty to twenty-five miles an hour."

"I am not exactly sure there was no negligence, but there is not sufficient to constitute a case of careless or dangerous driving," remarked His Worship. "I am dismissing the charge."

A charge of assault against Mrs. Lucy Carlisle of the Township of Whitchurch, was adjourned for two weeks in order to produce further evidence.

Mrs. Nellie Rich, the complainant, was the first witness. "This took place on my mother's farm at Lake Wilcox, a week ago last Sunday," she testified. "In the spring, my mother and brother were working out, and my mother asked us to move in. I was to have the house, garden, and orchard until December 1st. Then my mother rented the farm to Lucy, all except the orchard and garden. Lucy is my cousin. She was to have rooms in the house if she needed them. She came over and asked me if she

ST. PAUL'S W.A.

The Red Cross Sewing Circle, in connection with St. Paul's W.A., met at the home of Mrs. Otton on the corner of Lorne and Millard Avenue, on Tuesday afternoon of this week. They will meet at the home of Mrs. Marwood, Church Street, next Tuesday.

The W.A. had their monthly devotion and business meeting at the home of Mrs. Hiller, Huron Street, last Thursday, when twenty members met for special intercessions for the sufferers in the war, combined with their work for missions.

The October devotional meeting will be held as usual, in the Parish Hall the second Thursday in the month.

could have two rooms in the house, and I said she could. Then she left me a note Friday night, saying to leave the house altogether, and telling me where I could get another house. She came over Sunday and asked George, my husband, why we weren't moved out. He said we had to find a house first, and she said she'd have our furniture put out on the road if we weren't out. I asked her why she wasn't sensible about the thing, that we had to get a clean house. We found a house and moved out two weeks ago last Wednesday. I took 300 berry bushes and some rose bushes. She said I couldn't go back for my garden stuff, and threatened to hit me. We went back on Sunday, Mother, Jack and I. I got one hundred of my berry bushes and some of my rose bushes. William Carlisle came over and was speaking to mother, and said he was going to get his mother. My mother started for Mr. Line, and he wasn't home, so she got Mr. Baraclough. Lucy came back with her son and asked me what I thought I was doing. She used language that I wouldn't care to use, and hit me four times on my left shoulder with her fist. I told her to stop and stepped back. Then my husband wouldn't let her hit me any more. She called us ignorant and everything she could think of, and said I couldn't come in there again, and threatened to hit me again if I did."

Mr. Rich, husband of the complainant, stated that Mrs. Carlisle came over and pounded his wife on the shoulder. "I was sitting on the fender of my car, and my wife started to cry, that she was going to hit her back," he continued. "I stepped up and stopped her. There is a written agreement about taking the berry bushes at Mr. Line's office."

Jean Cruickshank of Oak Ridges testified that she saw Mrs. Carlisle hit Mrs. Rich four times. "We went over Sunday, and they were digging up the bushes," said accused. "They did not have the right to take them. There is no agreement whatsoever about the berry bushes. I was to have possession of the house any time I required it. I was good enough to let them have the house all summer. When I spoke to Mrs. Rich, she flew off and jumped around like a mad person. I did not strike Nellie Rich, and didn't lay my hands on her. We leased the place last spring, and have never stopped her from taking the garden stuff."

Ethel White of Elgin Mills, and Mrs. Carlisle's two sons, Sam and William, testified that they were sitting in the car at the time, and Mrs. Carlisle did not strike Mrs. Rich.

Magistrate Woodliffe warned Mrs. Carlisle, not to hinder Mrs. Rich from getting the garden produce, and adjourned the case two weeks. The agreement from Mr. Line's office will be produced at this time.

As the result of an accident on September 1st on the highway between Keswick and Sutton, when Lieutenant Senior was killed, Lieutenant Douglas Harley of Highland Light Infantry, stationed at Stratford, was charged with dangerous driving by Constable McCallum, to which he pleaded not guilty through his counsel, J. S. McLaughlin of Toronto.

Rev. A. B. Moffatt of Belhaven, who lives almost at a right angle from the curve where the accident occurred, was the first witness called.

"A young lady was visiting us and had just gone to bed," he testified. "Her room faces the highway and is at the point nearest to where the accident occurred. As the result of information received from her, I was the first one at the scene of the accident, about 11.30 or 12 o'clock standard time. A car was over on its right hand side, of the road turned over, the lights facing across the highway. The whole car was off the road but the front of the car was just off the shoulder. The two occupants of the front seat were out. I met the lady first. The driver was on the upper side of the car in the act of opening the back door of the car. I climbed up on the car myself and Mr. Harley had gone into the back seat, and was trying to draw their attention by speaking to them. With my assistance we got the lady out. A telephone pole was lying across the running board on the upper side. We managed to right the car onto its wheels, and the other occupant was lying on the ground when the car righted itself. The other rear door of the car was open, and the body was lying on its back. I took a glance at it, and life was extinct at that time. I was quite close to Lieut. Harley, and he seemed to be perfectly normal."

Constable Morton produced a bottle of Scotch whisky found in an orchard adjacent to the accident. He testified that there is a high thorn hedge between the orchard and highway. The bottle was 30 feet or 40 feet from the highway.

Cecil Prosser of Belhaven, who went to the scene of the accident early the next morning, produced a bag with a permit inside. It was for a single purchase from the Liquor Control Board. Lieutenant Thomas Senior's name was on it, with the address Royal York Hotel. This bag was found in a thorn hedge in an orchard adjacent to the accident. Continued on Page 7, Col. 5

Letters From Overseas

The following letters have been received from Newmarket boys in England expressing their thanks for parcels and cigarettes.

Somewhere in England,
August 21, 1940.
To the Newmarket
Veterans Association,
c/o The Express-Herald,
Gentlemen,—

This is just a small way of thanking you sincerely for the cigarettes and parcel you sent me. As you have been through the mill, you know just what a soldier needs. And I might add that you certainly didn't miss a thing.

Perhaps this will be a little late in reaching you. Your parcels were waiting here at the unit for me for a week, as I was at a casualty clearing station. However, I am back with my unit now, rarin' to go again.

I also wish to express my gratitude to those women who knit the socks that were in the parcel. They were needed. With a hope that this war is soon over, and I shall be able to personally thank you all, I shall close.

Sincerely,
Sapper J. T. Galbraith.
P.S.—Keep up the good work.

Dear Sirs:

In acknowledgement of your very welcome parcel received by myself on the 20th of August. I am writing these few lines to convey to you a small amount of my gratitude and appreciation.

The articles contained therein were those things which we fellows over here in England need and appreciate most.

I am keeping in the best of health and so long as "Jerry" stays as far away as he has up to now I will probably continue to do so. He came pretty close on Sunday, the 18th, (about 100 ft. directly overhead,) but as our orders are not to fire unless we are attacked, we did not fire on him. Who knows, perhaps he didn't see us.

We are kept quite busy delivering rations to the other Corp units but we get quite enough time to spend our money and enjoy ourselves.

We have become quite used to the 4 o'clock tea habit over here. As a matter of fact we are slowly becoming good Englishmen in that respect.

We have only one real fault to find, and that is the matter of mail theft. If there have been any cigarettes sent by you I have not received them. We know they are being stolen, because to-day I found five cigarette cartons in the bushes and none of the fellows to whom they were addressed had received them. However, there is apparently nothing we can do about it.

Thanking you again for your thoughtfulness, I remain,
Yours sincerely,

Gordon Rowland,
B83963 1st Corps Troops Supply

Somewhere in England,
Aug. 18, 1940.

Dear Edna,—

Just a line in answer to your letter I received today, and was sure glad to hear from you. I am well and busy, and I want to thank the veterans and the Salvation Army for the boxes that I received from them. Believe me I sure appreciated them.

We are getting an awful lot of air raids over here now. We were watching the German bombers above us in one of their raids, with the spitfires chasing them, when one of the German fighters came down behind us and sprayed the ground with lead. You should have seen us run. I was the second one to get in our trench, ha, ha.

One plane came down about 50 yards behind my truck. We filled him so full of lead you couldn't tell what he looked like. One of our corporal got excited when we were shooting, and he put a bullet between my legs. He was so afraid that he had shot me he was feeling around my legs to see where I was hit. I had to laugh at him.

I have a little dog for a chum. I will send you a picture of him. How is Leslie and the rest of the family? Tell Leslie I will write a letter to him soon. Be sure and thank them for the boxes.

With love,
Pte. Stan. Keetch.

Hitler, Goering, Mussolini,
Maybe you've planes galore,
But while our air force stands by
You never can win the war.

Hitler, Goering, Mussolini,
You may say that England's yours,
But you better go back home,
'Cause you'll never reach their shores.

So you better take your pop guns
And play like children play,
For if you stray out of your nursery

We will take your toys away.

We have given you fair warning
Because England's on our side,
So listen while we have our say
Forever more in peace abide.

We have told you all about them,
We don't mean to cause them
harm,
For they don't know what their doing,

Let them go back on the farm.

THERE'LL NEVER BE A
HITLER

There'll never be a Hitler,
While there's an England strong,
There'll never be a Hitler here
While England knows no wrong.

There'll never be a German,
While there's a British fleet,
Wherever there's a war ship
brave

The Germans will retreat.

Red, white and blue, what does it mean to you?
Canadians here, Canadians there,
All we can spare,

The Empire too, we can depend on you,
Freedom remains, these are the

There'll never be a Nazi,
While Britain rules the sky,
Wherever there's a British plane
They'll never let us die.

BRITISH-ISRAEL

Last Sunday afternoon Mr. Sidney Sparks of Toronto gave the address at the regular weekly meeting of the British-Israel World Federation. He took for his text "The Collapse of Modern Babylon," and gave a second following from where he left off at a former address entitled "Babylon is Falling."

Ancient Babylon was founded by Nimrod, and at his death was ruled over by his widow for forty-two years, and was called "The City of Confusion," which name he said aptly described it and its modern counterpart. He took Revelations 16, 12 for his special text and used the River Euphrates to illustrate his point concerning the decline of the gold standard and the twists and turns of the river made by the engineers of the Queen of Babylon to gain her desired results he described as modern finis.

He was listened to with extreme attention by his hearers who hope he will soon return to again give one of his interesting addresses.

Rev. Harvey Linnen will speak next Sunday, and Mr. Edward Webb will be the speaker at the evening meeting in the Strand Theatre the following Sunday, September 29, at 8.30.

J. C. DOLAN MARRIES
MARGARET A. MANLEY

An attractive color scheme of deep green and ivory was carried out in one of the season's prettiest weddings Saturday morning when Margaret Anne Manley, daughter of Mrs. E. J. Manley, Hillton Ave., and the late Mr. Manley, became the bride of John Campbell Dolan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dolan, Yonge St. Rev. Thomas J. Manley, uncle of the bride, officiated in Holy Rosary Church, which was arranged with white gladioli, ferns and palms. Mrs. Keegan was at the organ, and Joseph McCann sang. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a period frock of ivory velveteen made on princess lines with a full skirt and train, a high round neckline with a scalloped yoke, elbow sleeves and a gold cross and chain as her only jewelry. She wore an ivory velveteen bonnet with a waist-length tulle veil and carried white gardenias, gladioli petals and swansonia. The matron of honor was Mrs. Joseph Galza, Buffalo, and the bridesmaids were Miss Dymna McConvey and Miss Rita Sullivan. All attendants were gowned in leaf green velveteen fashioned like the bride's frock, with yoke and sleeves edged with narrow ivory lace. They wore two strand necklaces of pearls, the gifts of the bride. Their bouquets of green velveteen were lined with ivory ruffled lace and they carried fans of swansonia and ferns on a base of white gladioli petals. James E. Manley was best man and the ushers were George Vogan, Hamilton, and Dennis Mungovan, Newmarket. A reception was held after the ceremony at the Park Plaza Roof. The bride's mother was gowned in an afternoon frock of black crepe with a black draped beret, a silver fox cape and a corsage of mauve orchids. The mother of the groom wore a black velvet frock with a black velvet hat, kolinsky furs, and rubrum lilies as her flowers. For a wedding trip through Northern Ontario, the bride changed to a gray wool jersey frock with a finger-tip jacket of gray kid and brown accessories. Her flowers were bronze orchids. The bride attended Loretto Academy and the groom is a graduate of St. Michael's College.

Former Pickering College Student Reported Missing

WAS STAR ATHLETE JOINED AIR FORCE IN '37

Pilot Officer Edwin Charles Minchinton of Toronto is reported missing in action with the R.A.F. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Minchinton, Maynard Ave., refused to give up hope that their only son might be safe. He was in command of a Short Sunderland flying ship, the largest plane in use by the R.A.F.

A cable from the British war office notified Mr. and Mrs. Minchinton that their son was missing after action on Sept. 14.

Lieut. Minchinton was born in Toronto 27 years ago. He attended University of Toronto schools and Pickering College, Newmarket. In November, 1937, he left Toronto, where he had been connected with an insurance company, and went to England, where he joined the R.A.F.

His early flying was at the Toronto Flying Club. During his R.A.F. career he was stationed at Malta and Gibraltar.

Another cable received a couple of days earlier had told his parents of his safety.

Mr. Minchinton said that, according to the latest word he had received, his son was flying from Gibraltar. The Short Sunderland is a reconnaissance bombing plane, used extensively to rescue crews of sunken vessels, convey merchantmen and destroy submarines.

"We have every hope," said Mr. Minchinton. "He may be safe aboard a ship somewhere in the Mediterranean right now, for all we know."

Lt. Minchinton is remembered at Pickering college where he was star athlete and a good scholar, according to Reginald Blackstock, school athletic director.

"Ed." was one of two regular guards on the Pickering College basketball team which cleaned up the Eastern Canada Dominion Inter-Scholastic championship in 1930-31. He also played on the school football team and is remembered for a famous touchdown he scored, which won one

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WAR WORK COMMITTEE TO HOLD FAIR IN OCTOBER

The War Work Committee of the Newmarket branch of the Women's Institute, is holding its annual Fall Fair in the Market House, October 17, at 2.30 p.m.

A large attendance is expected and you and your friends are all invited.

The Fair will be conducted as a combined market, bazaar, exhibit, afternoon tea and lecture. The feature attraction will be Mrs. H. M. Aitken, of the "Cooking School of the Air." Mrs. Aitken is also very well known for her many activities connected with the Canadian National Exhibition, and has promised a message of keen interest to all Canadian women, particularly to those deeply interested in helping Britain win this war against Hitlerism.

Afternoon tea will be served at the close of Mrs. Aitken's lecture. It will be well to reserve tables before hand, in order to assure your party's seating accommodation during the address.

of the year's big games.

As a track man he set a pole vault record which still stands on the school sports day list. In 1937, a few months before he left for England, he flew over the school on sports day and dropped a humorously worded message, addressed to Headmaster Joseph McCulley. The message drew attention also to the lack of postage stamps on what he termed the first "all Pickering air mail letter." Mr. McCulley still has the message framed on the wall of his study.

Lt. Minchinton was active in the affairs of the "Old Boys" association.

EAST GWILLIMBURY RED CROSS MEETS TO ARRANGE DRIVE CAMPAIGN

A very representative meeting was held in Sharon Hall Monday evening of this week, and plans were laid for an extensive drive for funds. The township president, Mrs. Tate, spoke of the great need for the continuous support of the work, the sending of parcels of food to prisoners of war in Germany, and the establishment of the eight hospitals in Canada for the wounded, warrants an emergency appeal starting Monday, September 23.

A financial report given by the treasurer, Mrs. S. Osborne, and a report of the nine months' work room efforts given by Mrs. A. Evans, met with definite approval of the meeting. According to these reports, some sixteen hundred dollars had been raised and amongst the many contributions were over ten hundred pairs of socks, two hundred and thirty sweaters, knit, 42 quilts, 40 blankets, 80 qts. jam, etc. A complete report will be given at the annual meeting to be held in the hall, October 29.

Mrs. S. Osborne and Mrs. W. Wilnot were reappointed to conduct the campaign and the following chairmen of the six districts as follows: S. J. Goodwin, Allan Shaw, Joe Tilley, George Pearson, L. J. Farr and Mrs. W. H. Wilnot.

The election of officers will take place at the annual meeting October 29, when the results of the drive will be given.

Legion Provides News

War news—from the military viewpoint—for men on active service is the newest undertaking launched by the Canadian Legion War Services. "The War in Review" is the title of a monthly periodical now being published, which goes to all men of the armed forces here and overseas who have enrolled for study under the Legion services.

Regular contributors will include Lt.-Col. R. R. Thompson, chairman of the committee on military education at McGill University; Lt. John Farrow, controller of naval information; Major Thomas Wayling, chief press liaison officer, department of national defence, and Joseph W. G. Clark, director of public relations, R.C.A.F.

The changing military and political situation will be covered month by month, there will be authoritative news about all three services, as well as articles dealing with Nazi propaganda and fifth column activities.

"Commute" at Own Expense Almost every town and village in the Toronto area is eager to have some sort of military establishment, to judge from the letters received at M.D. No. 2. That there is reason for the demands is apparent from the fact that busloads of men who have joined Toronto N.P.A.M. units come into the city from numerous outlying points two and three drill nights a week, at considerable cost and inconvenience to themselves.

Canadian militia regiments are all territorial establishments. For instance, York county has long had its own regiment, the Queen's York Rangers. But during peace time, it is recalled, interest had slowly dwindled among members of such non-permanent units throughout the rural areas. Their homes scattered about between towns, villages and farms, it was difficult for members to attend drill night and other functions regularly. They couldn't take full advantage of social facilities offered by the regiment, which was one of the chief attractions in cities.

For this reason the centre of activities for the Queen's York Rangers became Toronto, and a similar shift occurred in other rural sections. Now that the war has aroused interest everywhere these areas feel themselves left without an establishment of their own.

All authority for such recruiting—let alone establishment of new units—was cancelled by Ottawa as of August 15. Men who did not join an N.P.A.M. unit, no matter where their homes, must now await the call to militia training centres. Highly appreciative of the enthusiasm which suburban members of non-permanent units have shown in "commuting" to the city for steadily increases as more people in town put in the conveniences. The schools are using more water. Pickering College uses considerable, and now that we have to supply the military camp with an estimated 30 gal. per man per day, we may at any time be faced with a water shortage.

The committee still advises delay. When we construct the well now, the cost will be at least $10,000 more than had we done it in the early summer. So delay cannot possibly get us anywhere excepting the longer we delay, the more the well will cost us.

We have promised the military camp a suitable supply of water. If we run into a shortage, we will be in a pretty mess, especially should a fire occur.

"I found it necessary to make this explanation to the citizens of Newmarket, because I have done all I could to assist the committee and advise them to go ahead and develop a plentiful supply of water.

If a water shortage occurs, I do not intend to take any of the blame.

Signed,

Smith on Wednesday, Sept. 25, at 2.30 p.m. At this meeting the ladies will have as guests, the Sharon Hobby Club, who will provide the program. Owing to the present great national crisis there will be a time given to prayer, including the Red Cross prayer.

The roll call will be answered by the name of a manufactured article or product of York County.

There will be a question box and a display of homecraft work from both societies. Everyone is requested to take part in these special items, including community singing. Ladies are asked to bring along their copies of "There'll Always Be An England" and their song sheets. All members of the Institute are asked to

NEWS FROM KING CITY AND DISTRICT

A pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 14th, when Edythe Elizabeth Glass, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Glass of King, was united in marriage to Clyde Clifford Cairns, son of Mrs. Cairns and the late William Cairns of King. The ceremony, performed by Rev. Douglas G. Davis of King, took place amidst a setting of tall standards of Piccadilly Gladioli. The bride was given in marriage by her father and was gown in Queen's blue Marquisette with floor-length skirt, sweetheart neckline, and short puffed sleeves. She wore a locket, the gift of the groom. Her flowers were Johanna Hill roses and pink Scabiosa. Her only attendant, Jean Hadwen, was gown in Queen's rose Marquisette dress with long full skirt, fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline. She carried Briarcliffe roses and rose colored Scabiosa. The groom was attended by the bride's brother, Ray Glass.

For the reception which followed, the bride's mother received wearing Soldier blue triple sheer with corsage of pink larkspur.

The happy couple left on a short motor trip, the bride travelling in a navy crepe dress with gold neck trim and Junior blue fitted coat, navy off-the-face hat and navy accessories. On their return they will reside in King City.

Mr. and Mrs. William Williams of Laskay, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday, Sept. 14th, the reception at the home and the wedding supper in Laskay Sunday School auditorium. One hundred guests were present, including ten of their eleven children, with their families. Mr. and Mrs. Williams received, the bride wearing a becoming gown of grey crepe with corsage of red rose buds. Assisting were her daughters and daughters by marriage. The house and supper tables were decorated with roses, and a gift basket of gladioli heightened the color scheme. Many lovely gifts were received.

Fifty years ago William Williams, who came to Canada from England in October 1887, married Tillie Crook, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. John Crook of Laskay. They have resided at Laskay, Kinghorn, Eighth Line, and are now living on the Crook property, where they recently erected a modern house. Thus the old homestead will remain in the hands of the Crook descendants. Twelve children were born, eleven of whom are living. One son, Willie, died at the age of 15 a few years ago. Carl is the only son at home, the rest of the family all settled in homes of their own. There are thirty grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The children are, George of Muskoka; Garnet of Kirkland Lake; Ollie of Parry Sound; Dick of Laskay; Carl at home; Harry of Scarborough; Charlie of Charlton, Ont.; Mrs. Bessie Clements of St. Thomas; Mrs. Dorothy Watson of Vaughan; Mrs. Verna Chamberlain of West King; Mrs. Mary McDonald of Toronto. Bessie was the missing member of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams both enjoy good health and are active at their daily work. Mr. Williams is a successful contractor for cement and building. He also was a farmer and a school trustee. Their many friends wish them health, prosperity and long years together.

Twenty-five years ago James Watson of Vaughan married Miss Mary Clarkson, the Rev. Roy Gray solemnizing the marriage. Mr. Allan Knight, cousin of the groom, and Miss Rennie Clarkson, now Mrs. Lewis Hadwen, sister of the bride, were the attendants.

On Saturday, September 14, the wedding party received 100 guests at the Watson home, in honor of the silver wedding anniversary. Rev. Mr. Gray was unable to be present. Mrs. Thomas Watson also received with Mrs. James Watson, who wore a gown of wine crepe.

Mrs. James Hunter of Laskay, and Mrs. R. J. Murphy of Richmond Hill, presided over the tea table for afternoon and evening. The table was centered with snapdragon and white candles in silver holders. Baskets of gladioli were placed in the rooms. Mrs. Wesley Clarkson assisted with the guests, while Misses Vera and Helen Hunter, Mrs. Earl Scott and Miss Jean McClure were the dining-room assistants. Among many beautiful silver gifts presented to the happy couple, was a silver relish dish, from the "shower girls" and friends; those who 25 years ago had tendered Mary Clarkson a shower prior to her wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Knight and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Knight and family, were among those present from Toronto. Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Halbert of Newmarket, Rev. and Mrs. D. G. Davis of King, were also present. Windsor, Richmond Hill, Kettleby, Aurora and other outside points were represented.

Mrs. Jack Cliff spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon MacArthur of Lowville.

Mr. Orin Thorpe, Bonus and Assayer Accountant, and Mr. Gerald Thomas, assistant engineer of Marlboro goldfields, are spending a week's vacation at the former's parents', Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Thorpe.

Rev. Charles Herbert Archibald of Lampac, California, formerly of Calcutta, India, whose marriage to Bessie Lorena Baldwin of Calcutta, India, took place at Union City, Pennsylvania, on September 7, motored to King with his bride and son Herbert Lee Archibald, to visit his parents. The Archibalds have each been associated with mission work in India, and have a wide experience.

On Sunday evening the Rev. Mr. Archibald addressed the congregation of King United church, touching chiefly on his missionary work in India. Mrs. Archibald also spoke very briefly and Herbert Lee, now aged 22 years, spoke of his university course in medicine. Herbert Lee intends to return to India as a medical missionary.

The Rev. Herbert and Mrs. Archibald will return to their parish charge at Lampac, California, by Sept. 28, when they will be at home to their friends.

Rev. Harry Bartlett is in town to visit with the Archibalds.

Eversley anniversary services were well attended on Sept. 15 and were greatly impressed with the stirring messages from Rev. G. C. Lamont of Woodbridge. The church was beautiful with autumn flowers and good music and congregational singing prevailed at both services. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Glass and Mrs. Ferguson of Aurora were among those from outside points.

Miss Betty Kerswill was entertained last Friday, at the home of Miss Beth McDonald. The young ladies' Sunday school class of United church presented her with a tea service, useful in her residential life at the Toronto General Hospital, where she began training on Sept. 19. Present were, Mrs. Harvey Follett, their teacher; Misses Margaret Kerswill, Floral Davis, Helen Campbell and Mattie Hamblay.

Mr. Norman Ethridge of Laskay was suddenly called to serve with overseas forces in the wireless and photography operations. FOURTEEN DAYS IN JAIL FOR DRUNK DRIVING

"I have seen a good many cars skid, and go through the wire fence," testified Prosser. "On Sunday, after the accident, a Toronto Laundry truck was coming towards the corner at a very moderate speed and narrowly avoided going into the ditch. In my estimation, there should be a heavy railing and checker board at that corner."

"Has the telephone pole ever been broken off before?" asked defense counsel.

"Yes," replied witness.

"Is there a rut on the shoulder of the road?"

"Yes, the car had started to skid and struck the rut, causing him to lose control of the car. There is not even a thirty-mile speed limit at this corner."

"When I arrived at the scene of the accident, about 12.40 a.m., I found a 1931 Cadillac sedan facing west on the north end of the curve," testified Constable Alex. McCallum. "The front wheels were on the edge of the shoulder and the rear wheels were down to the east of the shoulder. Just to the north of the car I found a body lying, face up, the head to the north and feet towards the car. At the time of my arrival, life was extinct. Dr. Beattie was called. While waiting for the coroner, I asked for the driver. Douglas Harley came forth and said he was driving. He said it was the first time he had been over that road, and had gone over the shoulder, and the car upset. We had the car watched that night, and the following morning Constable Hill and I took measurements. There were two skid marks—one from the left front wheel and one from the rear left wheel following in a straight southwesterly direction on the shoulder for 143 feet. We couldn't see the right wheel skid marks at all. There were six white stones on the edge of the shoulder. There is a drop of 3 1/2 inches off the pavement to the shoulder of the road for 55 feet around the curve. There is an illuminated left hand curve sign some distance back which is not obstructed in any way. I would say that the curve could be made at a speed of 40 to 45 miles. Harley was quite normal when I got there."

blew out, would that be apt throw this car to the right?" asked defense counsel.

"It would cause the car to swerve," answered the officer.

"Have any repairs been made to this road by the Highway Department since the accident?"

"The rut has been filled in."

Constable Wm. Hill corroborated Constable McCallum's evidence, and also stated that the rut had been filled in since the accident.

Lieutenant Harley testified that he had met Lieut. Senior some time ago, and they were very close personal friends. They had been at Long B. Ranges for musketry practice Saturday, and in the evening called for two girls to take them to Lieutenant Senior's mother's cottage at Jackson's Point. They had all had a drink before leaving Toronto, and stopped at Keswick on the way up for lunch. It was at this point that Lieut. Senior asked Lieut. Harley to drive his car.

"I didn't anticipate a bad turn but reduced my speed from 30 to 25 miles," continued accused. "The first thing I noticed was the rear wheel starting to swing to the right. It kept on swinging, but I couldn't get it back. I put my foot on the brakes. There didn't seem to be a very great impact. The car seemed to settle over on its side. Mention was made of the tires before we started."

Major Maurice Hearn, who is in the same regiment as accused,

Mrs. George Allan, who was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Colville, for the past two weeks, returned home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kay and little Norman, and Mrs. Norman Kay and Lorne took tea with Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt on Sunday of last week.

The students and teachers of Bogartown schools, and some members of the community were among those who attended the Forestry Conservation picnic on Wednesday of last week. It seems a splendid thing that children should be taught the value and beauty of trees, and the need for conservation of all our natural resources. It seemed hard that rain played the villain's part in the showing, but did not damp spirits or enjoyment.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Harper, Mr. French, and the Misses Gladys and Irene Harper were among the guests at the diamond wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lapp, at Uxbridge. Mrs. Lapp is still an enthusiastic bowler, which is a marvellous achievement for a diamond wedding celebrant. I am sure the readers and writer of this column, extend hearty good wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Lapp's continued health and enjoyment of life.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Colville and Mrs. Robert Storey spent Sunday in Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Colville with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allan, and Mrs. Storey with her sister, Miss Hogg.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Forbes of Toronto were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Toole. This column extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Allan.

Miss Irma Taylor is visiting her sister, Mrs. Earl Toole, and Reeve Toole.

Mrs. Raymond Booth of Toronto, who was guest speaker at the Women's Institute meeting, dined with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Starr on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ridley were guests of their daughter, Mrs. Green, and Mr. Green of Galt for a few days this week.

Things "Trees"

Of trees, I've heard some people say, they just seem to be in the way. They spoil the view and keep out light, and strew the lawn both day and night, with cones and burrs and vagrant leaves, over which the tidy gardener grieves. But trees, to me, and many another, are like a sister or a mother, their branches, a green canopy beneath which to serve a cup of tea; or where you read or write or

The induction services for the Rev. Gordon Lapp, held in the Keswick United church on Friday, September 13, was a memorable occasion. The church was filled with the congregations of Ravenshoe and Keswick charges, and visiting pastors and their wives and other visitors.

Mr. Douglas Davis of King, chairman of the Presbytery, was chairman and conducted an impressive induction service, during which he addressed Rev. Mr. Lapp directly, and responses were made for the congregations by Mr. Roy Pollock, Mr. William Marritt of Keswick, and Mr. William Holborn of Ravenshoe. Rev. Mr. McClean preached the sermon, explaining the phrase "Magnify the Lord," by the example of the powers of enlargement by a magnifying glass. Rev. Mr. Fockler of Maple, formerly the pastor of Keswick and Ravenshoe charges, preached the sermon to both minister and congregations. He said that Rev. Mr. Lapp was being inducted as a representative in Keswick charge of the United Church of Canada.

After the service a reception was held for Rev. Mr. Lapp and Mrs. Lapp, all going into the Sunday-school room, which was beautifully decorated with flowers. Mr. Ernest Morton and Miss Joy Marritt introduced any who were not known to Rev. Mr. Lapp and Mrs. Lapp. Rev. Mr. Lapp and Mrs. Lapp shook hands with and greeted all present. A delicious lunch was served by the ladies of the church. Mr. Currie of Comber, Ont.; Mrs. McLean of Toronto, and Mr. Wilbur Howard of Toronto, an associate of Rev. Mr. Lapp in Boys' Camp Work, and a student at Immanuel College.

There was a Communion service in the United church on Sunday morning, September 15. The choir sang a very appropriate selection. Rev. Mr. Lapp emphasized in his sermon the need of expelling from the Communion service the feeling of gloom, and said the Communion was celebrated in practically all Christian churches. The sermon at the evening service carried on the spirit of the Communion service, the subject of the discourse being "None Other Name."

The Toronto Centre Presbytery of the United Church is holding a Sunday school Institute on Friday, September 27, at Newmarket United Church when pictures taken of Sunday-school work in Keswick United Church school will be shown. The evening service of the United Church will be held at

The beginners' class of the primary department of the United Church Sunday-school gathered at the home of Mrs. Francis Morton, where Miss Bains' scholars presented their beloved teacher with beautiful twin bedroom lamps. Games were played and lunch served. Mrs. Perry Winch, head of the Primary Department, assisted Mrs. Morton. Miss Bains has taught the Beginners' Class for a number of years and will be greatly missed.

The shower held in the Sunday School room of the United Church for Mr. Kenneth Boothby and Miss Phyllis Marritt on Monday, September 16th, was largely attended. Mrs. Bains and Mrs. Perry Winch carried the overflowing basket containing many beautiful gifts to the guests of honor. Misses Phyllis and Ruth Mary Winch assisted in opening the gifts. Mr. W. The good wishes of all members of the society go with Mrs. Pedlar in her new home in Toronto. Mrs. John Baines will act as secretary for the remainder of the year.

This Good Bacon Hog Made a PROFIT!

This Little Runt Made None—

To make profits from hogs, feed Quaker Pig Starter, and get them ready for market at 200 to 220 pounds weight at the age of about 5 to 6 months.

Quaker Pig Starter is built around oatmeal, and research farms have definitely proved that oatmeal makes pigs grow faster, develops big strong frames, and increases resistance to disease. Because oatmeal is 94% digestible, there is less waste, and the pigs convert it into meat far more quickly and economically.
